One sunny afternoon, Peter was playing in his backyard when he heard a strange noise. He looked around and saw a tiny creature peeking out from behind a leaf. Peter was amazed! He had never seen anything like it before. The creature was small and green, with big eyes and a long tail. Peter slowly approached the creature, and it didn't run away. Instead, it looked at Peter with curiosity.

Peter and the creature soon became friends. The creature told Peter that its name was Pip, and that it was one of many little people who lived in the backyard. Peter was fascinated by Pip and his friends. He learned that they were kind and helpful creatures who loved to play and explore.

One day, Peter and Pip were playing in the backyard when they saw a group of children playing nearby. The children were being mean to a smaller child, and Peter and Pip knew they had to do something. They ran over to the children and told them to stop being mean. The children were
